Remembering William E. 'Sully' Krouse

The University of Maryland lost a close friend this past year as former head wrestling coach William E. "Sully" Krouse passed away on March 31, 2000 after a long battle with cancer. He was 83.

Krouse was instrumental in starting the sport at Maryland in 1940 as a student, but is best known for his success as a coach for the Terps from 1947 until 1978. In his 32 years at the helm, he won 20 ACC titles, two Southern Conference titles and coached 155 ACC individual champions and eight All-Americans.

He helped the Terps to a 6-1 record in 1941-42 as a wrestler and was runner-up for the Southern Conference heavyweight title in 1941. He received both his undergraduate and master's degrees from Maryland while recording a 72-2 collegiate record, following a 31-1 prep school mark.

Before coming back to College Park in 1946 as an assistant football and the head wrestling coach, he played professional football for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1942 and coached in Baltimore.

Once the wrestling program had been reinstated following World War II, he brought the team from a fourth place finish in his first year in 1947 to back-to-back Southern Conference titles by 1952-53. In 1953, Maryland joined the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Terps won 16 consecutive ACC titles while going undefeated in the conference during each of those seasons. After toking second place in 1970, Maryland won four more titles from 1971-1974.

Krouse also served as tournament director for three NCAA Championships. His first event was recognized as one of the most successful in NCAA history with the largest number of entries, a record attendance and was profitable for the first time. In 1972, the championships in Cole Field House grossed more than $100,000 and boasted a record attendance with 42,500 fans.

Krouse was inducted into the Maryland Hall of Fame in 1987 for his achievements as both an athlete and coach.

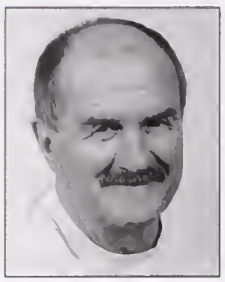
Head Coach John McHugh

23rd season at Maryland • Maryland '59



As an 87-pound junior high school student, John McHugh never pictured himself in the sport of wrestling. Today, he could not picture his life without it. As one of the most successful coaches and wrestlers in Terrapin history, McHugh looks toward his 23rd year at the helm in College Park, where he has become a symbol of Maryland wrestling with his 264-161-8 career record.

Since becoming the head coach in 1978, after nine years as an assistant, he has coached six student-athletes to All-America status and had 22 ACC champions. His legacy has stretched to the point where the National Wrestling Hall of Fame honored him with a Lifetime Service Award in 1995. Although he has become one of the most respected coaches in the NCAA, his focus has always remained on the present season and working with his team.

While his slight junior high school frame was not enough to keep him out of wrestling as a youngster, his perseverance has pushed him into success ever since. When his older brother told him that the nearby high school varsity team needed someone for its 95-pound weight class, McHugh jumped at the chance. He recalls that on the first day he arrived wearing just a bathing suit and left with burns all over his body from the horse hair-covered mat. He quickly adjusted to the surface and as a sophomore, won the regionals. By his senior year, he was the state champion.

Upon graduating, McHugh won a scholarship to the University of Maryland where he became a two-time ACC champion and advanced to the national championships three times. His career was highlighted by an appearance in the NCAA semifinals in his senior year—only to be pinned by an Olympian after taking an early 7-3 lead. After leaving Maryland, he spent the next decade in multiple places from his three years of active duty as a captain in the Marine reserves to coaching at both American University and Catholic University. During this period of time, he attained a master's degree in physical education and taught numerous classes. In 1969, McHugh returned to Maryland as an assistant coach, eventually taking over the reins from William "Sully" Krouse.

While he regrets passing up the opportunity to earn a doctorate in physical education, John McHugh has followed his true passion, and will continue to run the Maryland wrestling program with the heart and determination that he showed on the mats as a Terrapin wrestler.

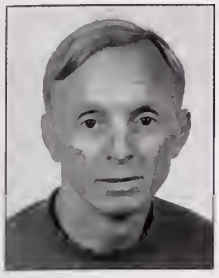
Assistant Coach Curt Callahan

22nd season at Maryland • Maryland '70



A two-time ACC champion, Curt Callahan is in his 22nd season as an assistant wrestling coach at Maryland. In addition to his coaching duties, Callahan serves as the assistant athletic director for operations and facilities in the athletic department.

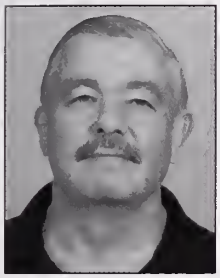
Callahan came to Maryland in 1966 from Pittsburgh, Pa. He was a Pennsylvania state runner-up in the 138-pound weight class and continued his wrestling success at Maryland, winning two ACC titles. He twice won the East Stroudsburg Open when it was still a true open and one of the largest tournaments in the country.

During Callahan's junior year, the Terps ranked seventh in the country. He was 22-1 during the season, losing only to defending NCAA champion and future Olympic champion Dan Gable from Iowa State.

After graduation, Callahan competed in the 1972 and 1976 Olympic Trials. He finished fourth in the country at 149.5 pounds in Greco-Roman wrestling. During the 1972 trials in Minnesota, Callahan was unbeaten and tied eventual Olympian Bob Buzzard. He was eliminated on bad marks due to ties. In 1976, Callahan again qualified and competed in the final Olympic camp in New York, narrowly missing a spot on the team.

Assistant Coach Kevin Kearns

21st season at Maryland • Maryland '75



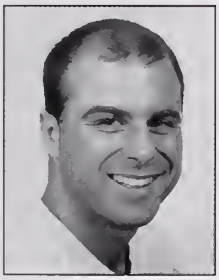
Former Terrapin letterwinner Kevin Kearns is in his 21st season as an assistant on the Maryland staff. Kearns started at Maryland as a student in 1966. In 1970, while a captain of the wrestling team, Kearns was drafted into the United States Army. He served with the 101st Airborne Division in a Recon Team in Vietnam in 1971 and 1972.

Upon his completion of military duty, Kearns returned to the Maryland wrestling program in 1972-73. While earning his bachelor's degree in physical education, he assisted Coach McHugh and the team. Wrestling during this time for the Baltimore Central YMCA, Kearns won the national YMCA Greco championship, the prestigious New York Athletic Club Greco championship and two South Atlantic AAU freestyle championships.

After receiving his degree, he moved to Minnesota to train and wrestle for the United States Greco Roman team. Returning to Maryland in 1976, Kearns was named head coach at Dulaney High School in Timonium, Md. In 1977, he was selected to take the head coaching position at Johns Hopkins University, but returned to Maryland in 1980, where he has served at his current position ever since.

Volunteer Assistant Tom Miller

4th season at Maryland • Maryland '92



Tom Miller is in his fourth year as an assistant coach for Maryland. He returns to College Park after graduating in 1992 with a double major in business/marketing and transportation, but his legacy as a wrestler has always remained. On the mats for the Terps, Miller was a two-time ACC champion at 142 pounds and an All-American in his senior season. Miller lost in the first round of the 1992 championships only to came back and win seven consecutive bouts. He earned All-American honors after placing third. He finished his career with 98 victories.

At Elizabethtown High School in Pennsylvania, he earned his first major accolade with a coveted Pennsylvania state championship. His success in wrestling has made a solid impact on his future. Upon graduating from Maryland, Miller became a manager for a trucking company in Altoona, Pa., and he is currently employed full-time as a manager of a local restaurant.

Review: A Stepping Stone Toward Greatness

When the season started back in November, head coach Jahn McHugh faund himself struggling ta fill a lineup hampered with injuries. He was forced to sit five returning starters and suddenly looked ta the 1999-2000 seasan as a rebuilding year.

Yet his team praduced faur NCAA qualifiers, the most since 1997, and saphomare Brandan Yark wan his secand individual title at 133 pounds. Instead af rebuilding a lineup, he was suddenly building a salid cantender for the next few years. Three ather sophamares, Rab Baath, Mark Mansueta and Josh Weidman, alsa made the trip ta the natianals and all faur will return to make up almast half af next year's starting 10.

Brandon York was one of four NCAA qualifiers from Maryland.

York finished 34-6 an the seasan and placed in all seven regular seasan taurnaments. In fact, aver the past two seasons, he has placed in 11 taurnaments and wan the individual titles seven af thase times. His secand canference title came with anather win aver North Caralina's Brad Byers.

Weidman had been Maryland's hattest wrestler at the end af the year, winning 10 cansecutive matches. In his last faur matches befare the natianals, he alsa defeated bath Na. 17 Denis Alampiev af American and 1999 ACC champian Jamie Graudle af Narth Caralina. He alsa beat Graudle an Jan. 15 in the deciding match af the Terps' 21-19 upset af ACC champian Narth Caralina.

Mansueta quietly led the Terps with a 10-1 dual record at 141 paunds. After sweeping the ACC regular seasan ta finish at a perfect 4-0, he fell shart in the taurnament finals, losing ta Virginia's P.J. Bary, 6-4.

Boath, at 157, was a leading candidate far the ACC taurnament's autstanding wrestler thraugh the first twa raunds after pinning Duke's Geaff Andersan at 4:21 and upsetting Don Carla-Clauss af Virginia, 3-1 until he met the Walfpack's Scatt Garren in the finals.

In additian, 184-paund freshman Sal Aquia, 174-paund freshman Jake Stark and 125-paund juniar Jae Guzzio will return fram redshirting and each have a legitimate shat ta win an ACC title.

Aquia had arguably the best seasan af any Terp, despite nat even starting, placing in all faur taurnaments that he entered. He even defeated this year's 184-paund ACC champian, Corey Bell, fram Narth Caralina, 8-7 at the East Straudsburg Open.

Stark anly campeted in 13 matches, but he pinned five af his appanents an the way ta a 9-4 recard. As a freshman, he campeted in a team-high 45 matches and finished at 28-17, leading Maryland with 13 pins, seven mare than any wrestler this season.

Guzzia, the yaunger brather of 1997 All-American Jim Guzzia, was a consistent starter in his first two seasons, appearing in all 22 matches. His saphamare year was highlighted by a win aver Na. 16 Lee Carrall af NC State, ta earn him his secand ACC Perfarmer af the Week award. His 50 career wins rank him third on the current raster and he is first with 20 pins.

Freshmen Jeremy Duncan, at heavyweight, and Matt Pandulla, at 125 paunds, bath finished in third place at the ACC Champianships.

The Terps graduated faur strang seniar leaders, an area that will be the mast difficult ta fill in the aff-seasan. Ca-captains Mike Tamaina and Grant Newman were salid starters and Brian Page and Rabert Takseraas made regular appearances.

Ritchie Coliseum

Since the 1997-98 season, Ritchie Coliseum has brought ultimate excitement to Maryland wrestling enthusiasts and visiting fans. It also has proven to be a friend of Terrapin wrestling as Maryland has compiled a 12-4-1 record on its home mat during the building's three years of operation since its renovation.

That great record began on Dec. 12, 1997, when the Terrapins moved from Cole Field House and quickly defeated both Coppin State and Howard in a dual doubleheader. Ritchie Coliseum has been gaining momentum ever since.

Maryland fans have poured into Ritchie in increasing numbers throughout the season last year. The Terps finished the 1999-2000 season with a perfect 5-0 mark, including a come-from-behind upset of North Carolina before a deafening crowd. Its official seating capacity is 1,850, with seating located around the mat and seat-back chairs for more comfortable viewing located in the upper bowl of the coliseum.

Ritchie was designed for all University of Maryland students. It is equipped with a new volleyball and basketball floor, a state-of-the-art weightlifting/conditioning room and a martial arts room. Those not into weight training can enroll in various excellent classes offered by the Campus Recreation Department. Whatever your interest, there is a class that fits your needs.

In just the past two years, the building has also hosted President Clinton's kickoff of his AmeriCorps campaign, Bill Maher from Politically Incorrect, rap group Wu-Tang Clan and comedian Jon Stewart.

Originally built in 1931, Ritchie Coliseum joined campus landmarks such as Rossborough Inn and Turner Dairy on Route 1 in downtown College Park. The gymnasium joined the then-nine-year-old 5,000-seat Byrd stadium, as the prime athletic facilities more than 65 years ago. The wrestling team competed at Ritchie Coliseum during the 1950s, when the facility doubled as the squad's living quarters.

Directions to Ritchie Coliseum:

From Baltimore and North: Interstate 95 South to exit 25B, College Park/U.S. Route 1 South. Continue down Route 1, past the main gate of the University. Ritchie Coliseum will be on the left-hand side of Route 1 before Fraternity Row.

From Baltimore/Washington International Airport: Interstate 195 West to 95 South. Travel to exit 25B and follow the above directions to Ritchie Coliseum.

From Reagan National Airport: Interstate 395 South until it terminates at New York Avenue. Make a right onto New York Avenue and exit at Maryland Route 295 (Baltimore/Washington Parkway). Exit at Maryland Route 193 West (Greenbelt Road) and follow straight to Route 1 South. Continue down Route 1 and follow the above directions to Ritchie Coliseum.

From Washington/Richmond South: Interstate 95 North until exit 25B, College Park/U.S. Route 1 South. Follow the above directions to Ritchie Coliseum.

From Dulles International Airport and West: Dulles Toll Road to Interstate 495 East. Take 495 East (Washington Beltway), which will change into Interstate 95 South for approximately 25 minutes to exit 25B. Follow the above directions to Ritchie Coliseum.

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Ten years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

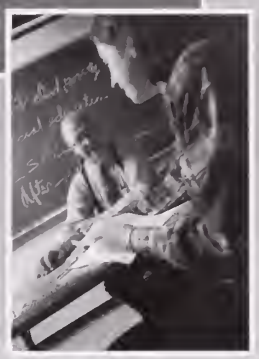
With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

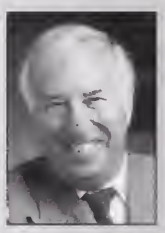
A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty, fellow students or friends at other universities.



President C.D. Mote, Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.



Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining 10 percent appropriations increases in each of his first two years.

Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley.

By the end of Mote's second year at Maryland, the university's ongoing capital campaign, Bold Vision • Bright Future, had raised nearly $300 million of a $350 million goal, including such landmark donations as Clarice Smith's $15 million for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and Comcast Corporation's $25 million for the Comcast Center. But Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not principally about raising money.

"They are about the university building relationships, with its alumni and friends of the university through the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as easily as the women's lacrosse team scores a goal."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly madels these principles. In 1999, she was singled out by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A farmer basketball caach, she began her caaching career at the high schaal level in North Carolina befare taking aver as head wamen's caach at the University af Kentucky in 1976. She has authared numeraus articles and baoks an athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely praud of each af them. I am equally proud af our Terrapin fans wha buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

Academic Support & Career Development

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to the academic success and career development of student athletes. In support of this commitment the department sponsors the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU).

Mission

The mission of the unit is (1) to provide quality developmental programs and need based services that will enhance the opportunity to earn an undergraduate degree, (2) offer career development opportunities and (3) support the psychosocial growth of student athletes through special initiatives.

Staff

Nine full-time professionals, two graduate assistants, tutorial support staff and student associates comprise the unit's workforce. Assistant Director Don Pearman serves as the ASCDU liasion with the wrestling team.

ASCDU & The University

Primary academic advising is provided by professional advisors assigned to each student athlete by his or her home college, school or department. The ASCDU counselors serve as an important support network that coordinates and implements transitional and developmental programs to address the academic and career development needs of student athletes. In cooperation with the Office of Records and Registration, ASCDU monitors academic progress of student athletes to assure that NCAA, ACC, and University rules and regulations are met.

Location

The primary ASCDU unit is conveniently located on the ground floor of Cole Field House where student athletes have access to various resources and services. Each academic counselor has private office space in order to insure meeting privacy. A study table room is staffed by proctors and arranged to maximize student focus and concentration. The facility also houses a tutorial room devoted to servicing the learning needs of student athletes. The staff maintains two computer resource laboratories with a total of 40 personal computers containing up-to-date software packages. In addition, ASCDU coordinates a laptop computer service that provides each team access to laptop computers while traveling to away competitions.

There is also a satellite computer room in the Gossett Football Team House. Three of the nine ASCDU professionals are currently housed in the building.

The Future

In the summer of 2002, the $124 million Comcast Center will become the new home of the ASCDU unit. A 7,000 square foot wing has been developed to replace the current space in Cole Field House. The new home of ASCDU will be conveniently located on the floor where offices of coaches for 20 sports will also be placed. The close proximity was designed to facilitate communication among ASCDU staff, coaches and student athletes. The satellite computer lab in the Gossett Football Team House will continue to operate. In addition, a building addition of an auditorium which will seat 140 is currently planned for the Gossett Football Team House. That space will be available for use by the entire athletic program, including ASCDU.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Mentor program
- EDCP 108-J (Career decision making and planning)
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-O (First-year transitions to the university)

Strength & Conditioning

In the highly competitive collegiate wrestling world in the new decade, the off-the-mat preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component ta the success af any Divisian I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps ta reach new levels in physical development.

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development af athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical rales. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the United States. Conveniently lacated in the Gossett Team Hause, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.
